

Applications are open to sophomores who have completed Early World History. Current placement in history is recommended, but not required. Editors play an active role in selecting papers and working with their authors to edit them. All editor applications will be reviewed anonymously.

Please send your application to the Turnitin account. Class ID: 13747669, Enrollment password: Scholarship. by Monday, November 7th, 2016. Questions may be directed to inflammationjournal@gmail.com.

Inflammation editors meet once a week at lunch on Wednesdays and coordinate the review process of student papers written in history classes. Inflammation offers the opportunity of giving students the chance to improve their own writing and research skills through editorial work. Seniors are Editors-In-Chief, and juniors and sophomores are given associate editor positions.

What do you love about history? Is there a particular time period, approach, etc.?

Why are you interested in joining the Inflammation Board?

Why do you believe you would be an asset to the Board?

Please list any current and past history courses taken during high school.

What, if any, special qualifications or experiences do you have?
